

datango AG expands board of directorsStephen Walsh appointed to increase strategic focus on global partnerships and market expansion

Westford, MA, USA, 10 May 2010 - datango AG, the leading independent provider of software to accelerate the implementation of new software systems for increased user acceptance, has appointed Stephen Walsh to its Board of Directors.

Mr. Walsh has worked at datango or one of its acquired entities since February, 2001 with just 18 months spent away from the company in this period. Today, he holds the position of Executive Vice President in charge of Business Development and Product Marketing for the international software provider. In his new role as a member of the Board of Directors, his primary objective is the strategic enhancement of the company, accelerating revenue and profitability growth, and the expansion of its global market position.

Oswald Zimmermann, CEO datango AG, explains: "Steve's added tremendous value to our business and has been an integral part of our success. His appointment to the board is well deserved and as we continue to expand our business it is important that our board comprises individuals that are best equipped to continue to steer our business in the right direction."

Before joining datango, Mr. Walsh held a number of different management positions. He started his career with marketing organization at 3M (NYSE:MMM) in the UK, before moving to RM plc (LSE:RM), Europe's largest supplier of educational technology where he was based near Oxford, UK. It was with RM that Mr. Walsh moved to the United States where he has subsequently held marketing positions with FAST, now a Microsoft Subsidiary, and Progress Software (NASDAQ:PRGS) as a divisional Vice President of Sales and Marketing. Mr. Walsh's experience with datango began with sales and marketing management roles with the privately held Norwegian company, x.hlp prior to its acquisition by Enlight. At Enlight, a publicly traded company in Sweden, Mr. Walsh served as General Manager, Americas prior to the acquisition of Enlight's Knowledge and Performance Solutions business by datango in 2007.

"datango is at a tremendous stage in its organizational development and I'm excited about our future. I believe we have the best people in our industry, the most innovative and compelling software solution, we are in solid financial shape and our partner business has experienced tremendous growth during the past year in terms of both revenue and net new partner acquisition. I look forward to continuing to drive our success forward as a member of the executive board", explains Mr. Walsh.

Steve Walsh, Director and Executive Vice President for Business Development & Product Marketing, datango AG
